Gentlemen:

One of our Insurance friends has suggested that we sent you sample of a Bronze Lincoln plaque which we are getting out among our friends. We take pleasure in sending you one, under separate cover, to-day with our compliments.

Should the use of a plaque like this appeal to you, we would be glad to know and if the sentiment on it appeals, and you would care to have a limited number, we have extra copies which we are offering at a price of $1.00 each.

Yours truly,

My dear Mr. Hanson:

Because of Mr. Hall's absence from the office your very beautiful Bronze plaque has been called to my attention.

We are indeed pleased to have it for reference and should the occasion arise where we feel we would be able to use a number of these we will get in touch with you.

It is indeed a very beautiful gift and the sentiment expressed is altogether timely.

Very truly yours,
